The Trade Union Bureau of the University of Havana, in coordination with the National Trade Union of Education, Science and Sports Workers, invites Cuban and foreign trade unionists, trade union leaders and scholars of trade union movements to the Round Table - Trade Unionism and the University in the 21st Century; to be held within the framework of the International Scientific Conference University of Havana 2023.

Trade union organizations, in the field of higher education institutions, carry out their work as genuine representatives of teaching workers and support staff for the activities of these institutions. This work, guarantor of labor rights and generator of good labor relations, constitutes a dynamic force of the fundamental activities of the University.

This Thematic Table is conceived as a space for the exchange of experiences in union work in the university environment and, at the same time, with the purpose of elaborating strategies of agreement that allow a coherent action of the union organizations in the institutions of higher education for their academic, research and extensionist development in a sustainable way.

The participation will be carried out under the organizational assumptions of the Convention and guided by the following thematic axes:

Thematic axes

- ◊ Thematic axis 1: Exchanges of experiences on trade union work in higher education institutions.
- ◊ Thematic axis 2º Trade union, university, innovation and sustainable development.
- ◊ Thematic axis 3º Meeting of trade union leaders of higher education institutions in Cuba and the world.

Participation rules

To participate you must send the information requested in correspondence with the thematic axis in which you wish to register and send your communication, according to the deadlines and rules established in www.convencionuh.com, with the following structure: Title; full names and surnames of the author (s); institution and trade union organization of each one; country; thematic axis; abstract of 250 words and three key words; introduction; development; conclusions; bibliographical references.
